

The Kiss of Death!

BEIJING (Reuters) - A young woman in southern China has partially lost her hearing after her boyfriend ruptured her eardrum during an excessively passionate kiss, local media reported Monday.

The 20-something girl from Zhuhai, in southern Guangdong province, went to hospital completely deaf in her left ear, the China Daily said, citing a report in a local newspaper.

"The kiss reduced pressure in the mouth, pulled the eardrum out and caused the breakdown of the ear," the paper quoted a doctor surnamed Li from the hospital as saying.

The woman's hearing would likely return to normal after about two months, Li said.

"While kissing is normally very safe, doctors advise people to proceed with caution," the paper said.

(Reporting by Ian Ransom; Editing by Nick Macfie)

How about that for a gross news report? When else can you think of a kiss of death? How about in the Bible? I will give you a clue- it was in the New Testament and it had to do with betraying Jesus? Got it? Yes- it was Judas kissing Jesus in the garden to show the guards who to capture.

Sometimes we have things in our lives that we allow in that are not fit for us spiritually. We allow them close enough to be in our lives and they end up being the detriment that destroys our walk with the Lord.

How about you? Do you have some things in your life that you need to get rid of? Maybe some friendships that are not making you stronger with the Lord? Maybe it's some habits that are not strengthening your relationship with HIM.

This week- why not re-evaluate what you are allowing to get close to you!

"The righteous should CHOOSE HIS FRIENDS CAREFULLY, for the way of the wicked leads them astray." (Proverbs 12:26)